«EVERY FIGURE THAT I CREATE
HAS THEIR OWN SOUL AND PERSONALITY...»

My artistic journey, of over 30 years, has brought me many years of joy and creativity.

I have continued to grow and move forward into the polymer world of sculpting realistic figures.

I am grateful for all the artist friends I have made on my journey.

Born and raised in New Orleans, Louisiana, Adele Sciortino, figurative artist now resides in Canada.

Her artistic abilities, is a direct result of a strong heritage of creativity stemming from talented grandparents and parents who were master tailors, quilt makers, and music teachers, who handed down a myriad of learning techniques to bring forth a creative and artistic presentation. Her endeavors to bring clay and fabric from its most simple form to a delicate creation of distinction are a constant driving force.

Each distinctive figurative sculpture has their own unique quality, made with the utmost care and imaginative focus. Her scope widens as she continues to build her creative process moving to more complex sculpting polymer clay figures to achieve a more realistic look to the character.

She has been involved with the figurative sculpture making for over 30 years while running a very successful business, commercial printing and online class site, on a full-time basis. Adele is also a Certified Graphic Designer as well as a watercolor artist and photographer.

Each figurative sculpture is as important as the next. Each with their own souls and personalities, Adele has captured the enlightenment and spirit of true figurative art making. Many figurative pieces adorn the homes and hospitalities of celebrities and continue to be appreciated by all those who view them. Her creative journey will continue to grow as she merges more into the polymer world of sculpting realistic figures.
